GRAND MASTER'S REMARKS

*"A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another".
Saint John 13 VS 34-35*

Greetings Brothers and Sisters,

July is here already and Grand Lodge/Grand Chapter will be upon us next month; I hope you register to attend prior to the deadline of July 15, 2015 and submit all reports before the deadline. On Jun 2nd we visited Western Lodge # 6 in Wyoming and held a town hall meeting; thanks to everyone who participated and thanks to number #6 for a good visitation and repass.

Our 2nd Masonic Joint Grand Lodge & Grand Chapter Workshop was a huge success! Over 65 members attended; a big thank you to our presenters, MWPGM Sauls, PGWP Phillips, MWPGM Cummings, RWSGW Weston, RWJGW Moore, MWPGM/PGWP Gray Sr., RW Nwuke, JW Brooks, GAM Waddles and our special presenter Ms. Angela Davis who shared information on Intergenerational Communication to improve harmony with in our Fraternity among the T,B,X,Y & Z generations.

RWDGM Flowers attended Nevada Grand Lodge Session; congratulations to MWGM Jeffery Jones on being re-elected, Richard Vega RW Deputy Grand Master, Kenneth Askins RW Senior Grand Warden, and Robert McGee RW Junior Grand Warden. The Shrine Western Chain Coalition was held in Denver, it was a fruitful meeting with plans to host Western Chain hospitality at Imperial Session in 2016. Congratulations to Past Potentate Keith L. Weston for being elected 2nd Vice President. Next year the meeting will be held in the Desert of Arizona. Congratulations to Illustrious Potentate Dwight Caldwell and Illustrious Commandress Greta I. Master for a fun and successful Ball; please see the photo section.

We had a tremendous turn out this year for the Juneteenth Parade in Denver, the entire Masonic Family was represented and showed the community the diversity and unity of Prince Hall Masons. Thank you to the Heads of Houses for your support; Order of the Eastern Stars, Prince Hall Youth, Royal Arch Masons, Knights Templars, Master Masons of Colorado AF & AM Lodges, Prince Hall Masons and the Nobles of the A.E.A.O.N.M.S.; also, see the photo section.

I had the pleasure of attending The Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of New Mexico; I want to thank New Mexico for the warm welcome and great hospitality. Congratulations to Edward C. Mitchell on being elected to the office of MW Grand Master, Randy Celestine RW Deputy Grand Master, Charles Norman RW Senior Grand Warden and Leonard Waites RW Junior Grand Warden.

SPECIAL POINTS OF INTEREST

We had a tremendous turn out this year for the Juneteenth Parade in Denver, the entire Masonic Family was represented and showed the community the diversity and unity of Prince Hall Masons.

We celebrated St. John the Baptist Day this month throughout the jurisdiction; The elected Grand Lodge officers including MWPGM Cummings #27 and WM Yates #26 celebrated with High Marine Lodge #12 and Mount Ogden Lodge #20 in Salt Lake City, Utah minus the Grand Secretary who was excused to be the best man at Worshipful Master Mays wedding (Congratulation WM Mays). We conducted our official visitation to Utah Jun 26-28, 2015.

The Lodges had a very rambunctious and exciting schedule for us; Friday we had the MWGM visitation, the lodges are growing and functioning well. Saturday we made breakfast at the Valor House for homeless Veterans...(Outstanding attendance); we performed a Grand Master Class for 8 profane, and held a Town Hall meeting, thank you to Grand Worthy Matron Freddie Copper, WM Linda Green-Haywood and the Sisters of the OES in Utah for participating and sharing suggestion to improve membership in Utah and a big shout out to WM Lee and his lovely wife Wendy for opening up their home to host a hospitality for over 30 Brothers and Sisters Saturday night.

We fellowshipped Sunday for St. Johns Day at Greater Trinity African Methodist Episcopal Community Church a National Landmark in Utah where Rev Nurjhan B. Govan officiated the Sermon” Tricks of the Trade”...Learn the Trade not the Tricks! Thank you Utah! We are making preparation now for GL & GC Session, some of our activities will be the Comedy Show on July 29, 2015, contact RWJGW Moore for tickets we need your support!

We will have a Masonic Table Lodge Friday, August 7, 2015 hosted by and at Centennial Lodge #4; We are working on hosting a concert for our members and open to the public. We will have bowling, BBQ outing and more! So please plan on attending.

Our new website is just about complete and we would like you to be a part of it...if you are the head/leader of a Masonic house (Men & Women) please send your name, title, name of organization and a picture to stanleyrappbrooksjr@gmail.com.

By now you should have received a post card about the Colorado Life Insurance Gifting Plan (Brothers) Sisters yours should be coming in the mail soon; open enrollment has been extended to July 31, 2015 please take advantage of this opportunity to complete the paperwork; see your lodge secretary.

If your lodge or chapter has a web site please send us your link, we would like to connect with you; reminder if you would like to submit articles, pictures or information for the newsletter they are due the 20th of each month. Have a happy and save 4th of July!

Football Fundraiser

Hello Everyone,

I would like to start by thanking you again for your support last year of our fundraiser. The 2015 Football season is upon us and your Monday night football books in support of Lone Star Chapter #1 are ready!!!!

Remember here is how it works.... You donate $25 for a chance to win $75 each Monday for 16 weeks depending upon the score of the Monday night football game. Please respond to this email by saying how many books you would like and I will make arrangements to get them to you. For some, I know that means mailing them to Colorado Springs and NM .

Thank you very much for your support and I want to wish GOOD LUCK to all!!!

This town is his town

Receiver Vincent Jackson feels like he has a home after years as a nomad.

BY RICK STROUD
Times Staff Writer

Vincent Jackson makes his living with his hands as one of the NFL's top receivers. But he wasn't afraid to put those large mitts to work dipping paint brushes and driving nails into walls with a hammer hours before the double doors swung open last week for a VIP event at his upscale restaurant, Cask Social, in South Tampa.

"You should've seen me. I think I was over there at 3 o'clock hammering nails and putting touch-up paint on the walls," said Jackson, entering his fourth season with the Bucs. "You're literally getting the last chair and napkin set five minutes before you say, 'Come on in.'"

The restaurant's loft bar, dining room and spacious patio soon were full of smiling waiters serving craft drinks and Southern dishes such as shrimp and grits, and chicken and waffles. Jackson has invested in at least a half-dozen restaurants, but he has had a more personal involvement in setting a warm tone for Cask Social.

"This one — just because I know I'm going to be in Tampa a long time, and I live literally five minutes away — I really want to have more of a stamp on this one and have fun," he said. "It's a great location."

"I know what's right in this town. My town."

That Jackson, 32, plans to call Tampa his permanent home may not come as a surprise unless you know the transient background of the three-time Pro Bowl player who grew up moving from city to city with parents in the military.

It wasn't easy always being the new kid, the new player, trying to fit in, having to play catchup in school and finish the curriculum in three months in order to be passed to the next grade, only to repeat the ordeal after another deployment.

He has devoted his off-field life, through his Jackson in Action 83 Foundation, to helping military families, focusing on the educational and emotional and physical health of children.

"Tampa is home, absolutely," Jackson said. "I felt that way pretty early when I got here. I don't know if it's just the Southern hospitality or what it is.

"When I got here, it just felt comfortable to me; it felt right. Great people. This city has everything you want. It's a good size. It's a big-small city, and it's growing. There are so many opportunities here on the business side of it. The fact that it's a young city ... there are so many positive things about this area. Great schools. Great place to raise a family."

Jackson's ability to adapt has been beneficial during his career with the Bucs, whom he joined as a free agent from the Chargers in March 2012. In the past three seasons, Jackson has played for two head coaches, three offensive coordinators, four receivers coaches and five quarterbacks. Yet at an age when few players have anything left in the tank, Jackson has consistently churned out 1,000-yard receiving seasons — six straight dating to 2008 in years he completed. (He played only five games in 2010 with the Chargers.)

"It's kind of the way I grew up, my military background," Jackson said. "I talk about this a lot when I meet with families and kids about the military lifestyle. You have to deal with change; you have to adapt to environments. There are situations that aren't expected but happen sometimes, and some things are inevitable. You have to wait for it. It's not something you're looking forward to, but it's coming. You have to get your mind right, prepare for it and do the best that can."

Hands go up as Bucs receiver Vincent Jackson asks at an event for kids last year if anyone had a parent who had been deployed in the military. Both of Jackson's parents were in the military.

As he sat in the Bucs' dining room on the final day of mandatory minicamp this week, the 6-foot-5, 230-pound Jackson didn't look like a player who has withstood the rigors of 10 seasons. He said he would like to play at least two more years, when his five-year, $55 million contract expires, though coaches tell him he could play four more seasons.

"When I was in my fifth year (in the league), I said I think 12 would be a good number for me," he said. "That was kind of a number that popped in my head. I thought that would be a solid career and I could accomplish most of the things I wanted to accomplish. Now that I'm here at 11 and I'm feeling as good as I am, they're going to keep pushing me a little bit, and I understand that.

"I would love to stay here in Tampa. That's my goal. I want to be a part of this transition. Be a part of (coach) Lovie (Smith's) transition, change the culture the way (coach) Tony Dungy did back in the day. I want to be a part of that, leave my imprint on that. Get this back to being a playoff team. That's what I want to do."

Jackson is where you go for the barometric pressure of the team, a guy who knows whether storm clouds are gathering or if sunny days are ahead.

The arrival of rookie quarterback Jameis Winston and offensive coordinator Dirk Koetter has lifted the gray blanket that was last year's 2-14 season. And Jackson is sold on Winston's talent.

"I'm impressed with the guy," said Jackson, a 2005 second-round pick out of Northern Colorado by the Chargers. "I didn't know much about him until he got here. I knew he had physical skills. Obviously, someone who has won a national championship (2013 season at Florida State), he can play some ball. But I didn't know his aptitude and his ability to really pick up this game professionally and the speed of it, make reads and take control of the offense the way a quarterback has to at this level. And he's done that.

"Is he still a young guy and a rookie? Yes, but every rookie is, whether they're a receiver or a lineman. You see the same mistakes. But the good thing about this guy is the fact that he's not repeating the same mistakes. He's making improvement every day. And when he does make a mistake, guess what he does? He gets right back in that huddle and says, 'Let's go.' You'll see him throw a pick, and then he'll come back and throw two touchdowns in a row. That's impressive."

This morning, while other players scatter to enjoy six weeks of vacation before training camp, Jackson will return to One Buc Place to host his third annual youth football camp for 150 kids of military families, many stationed at MacDill Air Force Base.

Jackson will be at the door, telling them to come on in, making them feel at home.

Just a player and a city that need each other passionately.

Most Worshipful Grand Master

Subject: Church Shooting in Charleston, SC at Emmanuel AME Church

Good morning Most Worshipful Grand Masters, Regional Chairs, At Large Members, Executive Committee, President and Vice President Conference of Grand Matrons and Patrons and Imperial Potentate,

I wanted to first of all say thank you from the bottom of our hearts on behalf of the Brothers and Sisters of the Jurisdiction of South Carolina and from my little heart as Most Worshipful Grand Master. I have received a number of calls, text messages and e-mails expressing concerns and well wishes about the mass shooting in Charleston, SC last night at Emmanuel AME Church. At this point, I only know and have been informed that one of our Eastern Star Sisters whom was also a member of the Daughters was a victim of the violence. I and the Grand Officers of South Carolina are monitoring the situation and the Grand Officers that are in the Charleston area is keeping me informed of the on-going events.

On behalf of my Jurisdiction, I can only say thank you for every little thing that you have done and only request that you keep the families of those killed and the Jurisdiction of South Carolina in your prayers. It was a very senseless act of violence by an individual that obviously had hatred in his hearts for us as African Americans. But in the midst of it all, God is still on the throne and sees all and heals all. We will continue to know where our help comes from and where we need to look for comfort. Again, I can only simply say and express our thanks to each of you whom have reached out for your concerns, expression of sympathies and desire to be available if needed in this time of tragedy. With all that is occurring all over the World, we as Leaders of this great organization must work together to bring about change and peace. We are Family and we should love and care for one another unconditionally. It is an awesome feeling to know that this family, the Prince Hall Family, does what a family should do in the time of need and we can lay aside any differences we have to work and come together as a family to uphold the oath that each of us took as Prince Hall Masons and Eastern Stars. Once more thank you and we shall keep you informed.

God's Blessings to each of you on the Journey and we here in South Carolina loves each of you unconditionally,

Lewis H. Nelson, 33°
Most Worshipful Grand Master - Jurisdiction of SC

From the Desk of the Grand Worthy Matron Freddie Cooper

This is a wonderful time to serve as an Officer of Columbine Grand Chapter. In my few months in office, I have learned more about how kind members of the Order of the Eastern can be. There are many of you who truly serve not just for the sake of recognition; but rather you serve because you have learned to love the ORDER and what it stands for. With the realization that Church and other organizations exceptionally fulfilling, some have found that membership in the O.E.S enhances their spirituality. Could that be true because of the basic principles of the Order? Is this true for you?

COLUMBINE CHAPTER GRAND OFFICERS

Last August, some worthy ladies and gentlemen agreed to accept elected offices in Columbine Grand Chapter for the ensuing year. At this time I will give recognition to those officers because I am so proud of them and I look forward to a remarkable service during my tenure with them.
